Dear Ankit:

Congratulations on your acceptance to SIPA! The School of International and Public Affairs (SIPA) at Columbia University is committed to recruiting the best and brightest students from around the world to enrich our vibrant community. Because of your strong record of academic and professional achievement, we are very excited to offer you a two year fellowship package totaling $24,000 in support, for the 2018-19 and 2019-20 academic years.

This award reflects the strength of your credentials, along with the school's conviction that your interests and its own strengths will prove highly complementary. We think that you will grow at SIPA, and that our faculty and your peers will benefit tremendously from your presence.

Your fellowship package consists of two $12,000 scholarship awards—one for each year of full time study—to be used toward your tuition at SIPA in the Master of Public Administration program. The award will be divided equally between your fall and spring semesters. Please note that the second year support is contingent upon meeting SIPA's standards for academic progress.

You will also have the opportunity to apply for a salaried assistantship position (e.g. teaching assistantship) that would provide additional monetary support during your second year of study at SIPA. These appointments are made by the faculty and departments contingent upon performance and fit, and are thus not guaranteed.

Fellowships are limited and highly coveted by our students; we hope you will take advantage of this opportunity. If you should have any questions regarding your award or SIPA's financial aid programs, please feel free to contact me or a member of the Financial Aid staff directly for more information.

Congratulations, again, on your admission to SIPA and on having secured this fellowship support.

Sincerely yours,
